'Bad-Point' Plan Aimed At Ohio Taverns

New Idea To Figure Utility Rates Also Before Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bad-point system for tavern keepers and a new method of figuring utility rates were in the Ohio Legislature today.

The proposed rate bill could reduce monthly utility bills. The point system could be the weapon to drive the undesirable out of the tavern business in Ohio.

The bills were among 32 introduced Monday night as lawmakers returned to Columbus for their eighth work week.

A few hours before the week's sessions opened officially, the policy committee of the Democratic-dominated House heard a strong endorsement of a two-cent tax increase on gasoline and diesel fuel to finance a continuation of the state's big highway construction program.

The endorsement came from Rep. George M. Hook Jr. (D-Brown) and had the backing of House Speaker James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield).

Lantz also agreed with Hook that passenger car license fees should be increased from $10 to $15 a year and driver license fees from $1 for three years to $1 for a single year. Hook said these increased fees should pay for county, municipal and township roads.

When they meet today, legislators will be confronted by another of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's special messages. Today's will be on his suggestions toward stamping out labor racketeering. He plans two others this week—one on industrial development and national resources. The budget message will be delayed until next week.

The point system for tavern keepers, proposed by Sen. Julius Pettrush (D-Cuyahoga) after a conference with DiSalle, is modeled after a point system for Ohio motorists.

Present liquor laws and regulations provide for suspension of law violations by permit holders and revocation in flagrant cases. The point system is the first proposal to set a cut-off point for habitual violators.

The proposal would set a limit of 10 bad points on each permit holder. Those who accumulated 10 or more bad points within a three-year period would be subject to permit revocation "forever."

Sales to minors would cost the permit holder five points. Sunday, after-hours or election-day sales, sales or possession of diluted liquor.

Motorist Gets Fine, Lecture On Ohio Laws

A Pennsylvania driver accused of three traffic violations in a case in which he forced a State Highway Patrol car off the road early Monday was given a $25 fine and a stern lecture on Ohio traffic laws when he appeared before Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw today.

William J. Vietmeier of 13-A Midland Heights pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge filed by the patrol, which alleged he forced a cruiser off Route 30 about 1:30 a. m. The affidavit alleged that he also passed at an intersection and without the assured clear distance, the judge noted.

You about ran the gamut — there are three or four violations here," the judge commented, ticking them off one by one. "If you were an Ohio driver, I would take away your license for 10 or 15 days for such an escapade."

Two other motorists forfeited bonds and a third was fined.

John K. Douglas, 22, of 361 Penn Ave., Midland, forfeited $100 on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. He was cited early Sunday morning after his auto collided with the parked car of Ruby Gallaway Morris, 1208 Pennsylvania Ave., at Pennsylvania and Central Aves.

Richard S. Chapman, 18, of 838 Valley Ave., forfeited $16 on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour early Sunday on Pennsylvania Ave. Harold Clutter of Wellsville R. D. 1 was fined $5 and costs on a charge he crashed the traffic light at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts. at 12:21 this morning.

City Couple Injured In Virginia Accident

An East Liverpool couple en route to Florida for a vacation were injured Monday afternoon in an auto accident near Roanoke, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maxwell of St. Clair Ave. were listed in "fair" condition today at the Lewisgale Hospital in Roanoke.

Maxwell, 58, became ill while driving and the car veered off the road and struck a tree. He suffered chest injuries while Mrs. Maxwell, 56, received fractured ribs and lacerations of the face. They had been visiting relatives in Union, W. Va., and were continuing their trip to Florida.

Radio Message Gives Hopes 2 Doctors Alive

LITTLETON, N.H. (AP) — A faint radio message today gave searchers hope that two doctors missing on a plane flight are still alive somewhere in the rugged, snow-covered White Mountains area.

Ground and air search teams today concentrated their hunt for Dr. Ralph E. Miller, 60, and Dr. Robert E. Quinn, 32, in the eight-mile area between Mt. Agassiz and Franconia Notch.

Cotton Mills Strike Marked By Violence

Workers Stoned And Union Man Beaten In North Carolina

HENDERSON, N. C. (AP) — Strikers stoned incoming workers at two plants of the strikebound Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills today. The demonstrations followed the beating last night of a union representative.

Two crowds, of about 250 men and women each, gathered outside the gates of the mills' North Henderson and South Henderson plants. Some of these were curious spectators. At least 15 cars of stoned cars were reported.

Sheriff E. A. Cottrell said his officers had it somewhat easier with the crowd today because of highway patrol reinforcements sent in by Gov. Luther Hodges at the request of Mayor Carroll V. Singleton.

The beaten union man was Boyd Payton of Charlotte, Carolina, an representative for the Textile Workers Union of America.

Payton, who only Monday described the town, as an "armed camp," was called to the door of his motel quarters shortly after midnight and struck on the head with a pop bottle.

He apparently was not seriously injured, and a hospital reported he spent a satisfactory night and rested comfortably.

James N. Roberson was arrested today outside the North Henderson plant when about 15 persons attempted to overturn a car bearing workers. Roberson was charged with simple assault.

The strike started Nov. 17 when negotiations broke down over a new contract. The TWUA said the main issue is management's desire to eliminate an arbitration clause from the contract. The mills reopened Feb. 16.

Payton, who had been broadcasting hourly paid appeals for calmness, was found unconscious at the motel.

2 West Virginia Bills Urge Sales Tax Hike

CHARLESTON (AP) — Two bills proposing increases in the state's consumers' sales tax were introduced today in the Legislature today. Sens. Wilson Anderson (R-Kanawha) and Joseph Handlan (R-Wood) offered a measure to increase the levy from 2 to 3 percent on purchases over one dollar.

That bill would leave unchanged the present scale up to a dollar — that is, a one-cent tax on purchases from six cents to 50 cents, inclusive, and two cents on those amounting to 51 cents to a dollar.

The tax would become 1½ cents on each 50 cents over a dollar. The Legislative Auditor's Office estimated the bill would provide an additional 11 to 12 million dollars more a year in general revenue.

Labor Chiefs Seeking To Avert Split

Revolt By Reuther Against Meany Held Peril To AFL-CIO

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders emerged with an uneasy truce today after a revolt led by Walter Reuther against AFL-CIO President George Meany's one-man direction of federation policies.

It wasn't exactly clear who had won. But Reuther and other leaders of the former CIO felt their voices would be reflected more in the policies of the merged, 14-million-member organization.

For one thing, it looks now as if the Washington meeting the AFL-CIO is planning to underline America's unemployment problem will be along more spectacular lines as urged by Reuther. It probably won't be the mass march of unemployed Reuther first proposed, but it will likely be more of a show than the strictly legislative conference of union officials Meany advocated.

The revolt had boiled for a week behind the scenes of the annual meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council. It began when Meany—head of the old AFL—chided Reuther—head of the old CIO—for holding a session of the Economic Policy Committee while Meany was delayed in Washington by a cold. Meany was reported angry at Reuther's unemployment march project.

Reuther, chairman of the economic committee, retorted that Meany had never attended economic policy meetings. Anyway, the red-haired Auto Workers Union chief said, as chairman he should have a relatively free hand at mapping economic policy, at least in the committee stage. Reuther said if he couldn't run the economic committee, he might as well quit the post.

Reuther was backed by James B. Carey, No. 2 man in the federation's CIO faction. The meeting got so hot that Meany ordered Carey to leave his seat. The scrappy Carey refused.

Meany, Reuther and other high federation officials failed to resolve the conflict at two secret breakfast meetings. A showdown session was held Monday night.

Meany declined to comment afterward. Reuther told newsmen: "Nobody ever talked about busting up anything—there are understandings now on things where there were misunderstandings before."

Thousands Plot Overthrow Of Dictator In Paraguay

Alfredo Stroessner rules as the lonely strongman of Paraguay, the last dictator in South America. Associated Press correspondent Jose Maria Orlando, after a visit to Asuncion, gives this report of life in the country.

By JOSE MARIA ORLANDO MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — South America's only remaining dictator, Alfredo Stroessner of Paraguay, is fighting a war of nerves led by a youthful Roman Catholic priest.

Stroessner's land-locked country of 1½ million people is a land of fear and suspicion, gradually becoming more isolated in a continent where dictatorships have gone out of style.

Thousands of refugee Paraguayans are openly plotting Stroessner's overthrow.

No Other Senator Backs Stand

Proxmire's Alone In Bid To Clip Johnson's Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — A campaign by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) to clip the authority of Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas remained a one-man effort today.

No other senator publicly backed Proxmire's demand in the Senate Monday for revival of party caucuses to direct and control the party leaders. He said Johnson is exercising "immense powers" without responsibility to anybody but the voters of Texas.

Proxmire, who himself once praised Johnson as the second most powerful man in government, said he will discuss in a later speech the implications of Johnson's leadership "and the power it has generated."

Behind the scenes there were other Democrats who obviously agreed with Proxmire that they have surrendered to Johnson sweeping authority never before so concentrated in a party chieftain. But these Democrats avoided publicly airing their views.

Proxmire himself said in an interview he had been told by some other Senators they were in sympathy with his views. But he said he wouldn't name them publicly.

He said he hadn't discussed his speech in advance with Democratic colleagues because "I felt it wouldn't be fair to involve them in something that might make difficulties for them with the leadership."

In this connection, one Democratic critic of Proxmire who didn't want his name used, quipped that the Wisconsin senator had picked Washington's Birthday to "make his farewell address."

Senators most familiar with Johnson's operations said, however, they expect the majority leader to bend over backwards in public efforts to demonstrate he is being fair to Proxmire and others who may view his leadership as something less than fully satisfactory to them.

Johnson himself was in Texas, confined to his home with influenza. Aides said it was not likely he would have any public comment.

Proxmire's chief complaint was that the individual Democrats have no voice in determining which legislation is to be brought before the Senate for a vote.

Johnson operates in such instances with a nine-member policy committee he heads and whose members he appoints. Some Senate liberals feel this group is weighted on the conservative side.

4 Cars Crash In 15 Minutes On Icy Stretch

Student's Head Hurt When Auto Hits Pole On E. 4th St. Grade

Four cars crashed within 15 minutes on the icy brick pavement of E. 4th St. near Pennsylvania Ave. this morning before police halted traffic over the stretch to await the arrival of city cinder crews.

A 16-year-old high school student was the only one injured in the crash series, which started about 8:30 when the car in which she was riding collided with a utility pole on E. 4th St. at Elm St.

Carolyn Robbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Robbins, 1600 Etruria St., was released after treatment at City Hospital for scratches on the head. She is a junior at the high school.

The girl was riding in a four-door sedan driven by Orval E. Schoolcraft, 825 Commerce St., Wellsville, which skidded as he drove downgrade, police said. The front of the auto was smashed. The girl struck her head on the windshield, police said. Schoolcraft, examined at the hospital, apparently was unhurt.

Patrolman W. E. McDaniel, sent to investigate the first crash, soon had a tangle of four wrecked cars and snarled traffic on his hands.

The second crash came at 8:35, when an auto driven by Gerald Lee Davis, 17, of 1834 Harvey Ave., skidded, turned around completely and then struck a parked 1953 sedan owned by Glen and Mary

Snow Follows Sleet With Cold Now Due

More misery for the motorist.

That was the continuing winter weather fare as light snow blanketed the Tri-State District today, covering a coat of sleet that fell earlier. Yesterday morning it was freezing rain.

There was the usual result — slippery highways. State, county and city cinder crews were called out early.

Roads were reported hazardous until the crews cindered and salted grades and curves but accidents were at a minimum.

Both city streets and suburban roads were covered with a thin glaze of ice that slowed work-bound drivers this morning. A few grades and intersections were salted and ashed by 8 in the outlying areas.

In East Liverpool, street department crews were called out at 4 a. m. to ash grades and intersections. By 9 this morning, main thoroughfares were clear, but some side streets still were slippery. Supt. W. M. Laughlin said.

District roads were slippery early today, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported, but rising temperatures let the high-ways merely wet later in the morning.

Officers were investigating reports of mishaps on Route 14 near Salem and the Columbiana-New Castle Rd. this morning.

Dam 8 at Newell said the sleet changed to snow before midnight. The snowfall was light but there were occasional squalls during the morning that added to the accumulation.

Temperatures dipped from a high of 46 Monday afternoon to a low of 32 at 8 a. m. today. The high range today will be 30 to 34 for Northeastern Ohio but colder weather is expected tonight with a low of 18 to 23 degrees.

Wednesday will be fair and warmer.

The rain, which fell all day yesterday, alternating between drizzle and showers, equalled 0.26 inch of precipitation. This was causing a slight rise in the Ohio River, which was at 15 feet this morning.

Strike Hits Cold Strip Department At Crucible

A strike was reported in the cold strip department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. today but there was no confirmation immediately from the company or the union.

A company spokesman said the firm "has no statement to make at this time" which, in effect, did not deny a strike was in progress.

A spokesman at the union headquarters said they knew nothing about the strike.

Pickets were reported in a car at the 10th St. plant entrance this morning when the turns changed, but late this morning no pickets were seen.

Boy Quizzed Following Fire In Apartment

Juvenile Officer To Question Youngster; Steam Causes Runs

A 6-year-old boy was to be questioned today by Chris Pusey, juvenile officer, for apparently starting a fire in an apartment house Monday afternoon, which caused only minor damage but sent three pieces of fire fighting apparatus to the scene.

Firemen decided to refer the youth to Pusey after he related a "fantastic" story while being questioned at Central Station following the blaze.

The fire started about 1 p. m. in the two-story frame owned by Calvin Gillespie and occupied by Betty Williams and E. M. Gilliam, firemen said.

The youngster, who was visiting the woman's home, apparently was playing with paper in the bathroom and ignited it from a gas stove. He then shoved it into a hole in the wall between the bathroom and closed stairway with the blaze setting fire to some articles stored there.

The boy told firemen that a huge piece of paper floated in through a window, caught fire from a stove and then went into the opening. Asked how such a large piece of paper could get in the small opening, the youngster replied, "I crumbled it a little bit," firemen said.

He also related how he rescued some people in the building and of inhaling smoke in the apartment and then exhaling it outside, firemen said.

Firemen sent two pumpers and an aerial ladder truck on the alarm, along with the chief's car. The department made two investigations yesterday and this morning where passersby mistook

State Highway Head In County Is Promoted

Edwin O. Harsh of Lisbon, State Highway superintendent for Columbiana County for 28 years, has been promoted to supervisor of county superintendents in the 11th Highway Division at New Philadelphia, and Gaylord Zellers of Columbiana has been named to succeed him as county superintendent.

Harsh of 715 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, a native of Kensington, has been with the department for 30 years. He has three married daughters.

Zellers, 48, of 304 E. Railroad St., Columbiana, has been an inspector at the National Rubber Machinery Co. at Columbiana. He was born at Wellsville, and moved to Columbiana when small. Zellers is married and has a son and four daughters. The appointments are effective Monday.

Declares It's Question For Two States

Foreign Ministers' Talks Seen Creating Even More Tension

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, emerging from two days of talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, threw cold water today on the West's plan for a four-power meeting on Germany.

Khrushchev told a political rally in the Kremlin that the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France cannot discuss German reunification because "this is a question for the two German states themselves."

A four-power meeting at the foreign minister level, as suggested by the West, might increase instead of reduce international tension, Khrushchev declared.

Khrushchev conceded that the four powers could discuss prevention of militarism in West and East Germany. But he then restated the Soviet stand that reunification should be settled only by the Germans themselves.

He also repeated the Soviet proposal for a conference of heads of government of all those nations that waged war against Hitler in World War II to work out a treaty with Germany.

The Western powers rejected this proposal in their recent notes calling for a four-power meeting on Germany at the foreign ministers level.

Khrushchev warned that any violation of the East German borders in the dispute over West Berlin would be considered an act of aggression against the Warsaw Pact powers.

While Khrushchev was speaking in the Kremlin, the visiting Macmillan was sightseeing.

Macmillan called off a hunting trip scheduled for Wednesday, and planned a full day of informal talk with the Soviet leader at the British Embassy's villa outside Moscow.

The sightseeing today was with a purpose, a motor trip 90 miles northeast of Moscow to look over the world's largest atom smasher — the 10-billion-volt synchrotron at the Atomic Research Institute at Dubna.

Among the chief researchers at the institute is Italian-born scientist Bruno Pontecorvo, who slipped out of England in October 1950 to work in the Soviet Union. He and Macmillan were not expected to meet.

Moscow newspapers gave Macmillan the warmest reception since his arrival Saturday. The Communist party organ Pravda and government paper Izvestia carried front page photographs of Monday's formal meeting between the two leaders and devoted nearly two of their six pages to recounting Macmillan's activities and speeches.

The papers and Moscow radio also gave full play to Monday night's dinner at the British Embassy, where Khrushchev hailed Macmillan as a man of peace.

Macmillan opened his speech with a tribute to Red Army Day and the Soviet role in winning World War II.

"We continue to cherish the glorious memory of those heroic days," he said. "When I ponder the present state of the world, I ask myself whether we have not today a common interest of at least equal degree. This common interest is peace."

Khrushchev expressed regret that "it has not been possible to uphold the wartime alliance between Britain and the U.S.S.R. in the postwar world."

But he said the Soviets "think that the conversations between us will bring results; we think you want agreement even if all obstacles cannot be solved at once."

Blaze Routs 100

BANGOR, Maine (AP) — Fire early today destroyed the Adams House Hotel and an adjoining apartment-business building, forcing at least 100 persons to flee. About 50 were guests at the four-story, 50-room hotel.

Dinner Honors Phone Worker For 45 Years With Company

J. Frank Schmelenbach, 804 Illinois Ave., a central office repairman, has started his 46th year with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Schmelenbach completed his 45th year Thursday and some 100 co-workers feted him Friday night at the American Legion home in Wellsville.

He was presented with his 45-year service pin by Charles J. Herman, central office foreman. Remarks were given by K. B. Huhn of Steubenville, district plant superintendent, and A. G. Weber, plant chief here.

Schmelenbach's entire career has been in the plant department, starting in 1914 with time out for 2 years in the Army Signal Corps during World War I.

A native of East Liverpool, he worked for the Risinger Electric Co. before joining Ohio Bell. He is a member of Riddle Masonic Lodge, a 32nd Degree Mason and a member of the Al Koran Shrine of Cleveland. He and his wife, the former Clara Cochran, have a daughter, Mrs. June Morgan.

Schmelenbach also is an active member of the Kingsbury chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America, an organization of those with more than 21 years' service in the communications industry.

The program included a skit by the Bell Ringers, a group of local plant men including George Hissam, Clarence Thornley, Richard Barnes, Robert Brooks, K. B. Talbot and Bill Martin. Miss Nila Jo Bailey of Newell presented a pantomime skit.

Ray E. Diddle was toastmaster. Delegations attended from Rochester, Salem and Steubenville, including C. A. Robinson, former plant chief here. The guests included Olive Williamson, Pearl Smith and George Cunningham, retired employees.

Barnes headed the committee making the arrangements. Others were Susan Graff, Thornley and Martin.

Pomona Grange's Meeting Draws 40

LISBON — Approximately 40 attended a Pomona Grange meeting Saturday at Salem Grange Hall. Master Charles L. Morlan of Leetonia R. D. 1 was in charge, of business.

R. Max Gard, chairman of county commissioners and legislator of the county Granges, spoke on legislation. Charles Vincent of Salem R. D. 3, chairman of the Cancer Fund in Salem Township, spoke of the drive. Wallace Matthews of Beloit R. D. 1 spoke on Juvenile Grange youth work.

Mrs. Grace Snyder of Wellsville, lecturer of the Pomona Grange, was in charge of the afternoon program.

Drive Kickoff Set

BEAVER — The Beaver County Cancer Society will hold its kickoff meeting for the 1959 campaign Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Monaca Junior High School. Albert (Duffy) Antonucci of Aliquippa is campaign chairman.

Senate Eyes $7.7 Million Revenue Bills

CHARLESTON (AP) — Three bills designed to boost state income for road-building by $7,700,000 a year came up for passage in the Senate today.

Biggest item of the three was a proposed increase from six to seven cents a gallon in the tax on gasoline and diesel fuel. It accounts for 4½ million of the estimated revenue yield.

The other highway revenue measures awaiting a Senate vote were a bill to raise automobile and truck license fees and one to raise the cost of a driver's license from 25 cents to $1.25 a year. The revenue estimates are $2,400,000 for the auto truck license measure and $800,000 for the driver's license increase.

House Finance killed an identical House bill for a gasoline tax increase last week and presumably would not look with any more favor upon a Senate-passed measure.

The Senate moved the measures up to passage stage after adopting earmarking amendments to the gasoline tax and auto-truck license bills yesterday. Receipts would be earmarked for matching federal funds available in fiscal 1959-60 for construction of the Interstate Highway System.

Without a word of debate, the House passed the civil service bill by a 62-33 vote yesterday. It now goes to the Senate.

Couple Will Open New Businesses At Lisbon

LISBON — Mr. and Mrs. George Vargo, owners of the former Hawk Building on E. Chestnut St. and Nelson Ave., announced they will open a small loan service and shoe store. The building houses Hilmyer's IGA store, Hawkland Bowling Center and Markay's store.

Vargo will operate the Stark Loan Co. and his wife will open the North Shoe Mart.

The building is being remodeled extensively but the opening dates of the new businesses have not been announced.

How Can I ? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove pickles or olives from a tightly packed jar without difficulty?

A. Try using the grapefruit knife for this purpose. The curved blade will slide under the pickle or olive without breaking it while pulling it upwards.

Q. How can I restore the sweetness of winter vegetables, that have arrived a long time after they have been picked?

A. This can be done by adding a little sugar to the water while boiling them.

Q. What is a good home remedy when one has a chilled feeling?

A. Nothing is better than to drink a cup of hot milk, as hot as can be borne.

5 County Youths Named Alternates For Academies

Five Columbiana County youths have been listed as alternates in nominations to service academies by Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, 18th District congressman.

Jarrett Hamilton of Toronto and Robert Schaefer of Steubenville have been named principal nominees to two appointments at the Naval Academy. Paul Lucas of Martins Ferry and John Velt of Bellaire are first alternates, and William O'Neil of East Liverpool and Clifford Cribbs are second alternates.

Ralph Baue of Bridgeport is first nominee for the Air Force Academy appointment. Alternates include James Lydon of Leetonia, Keith McCaughin of Lisbon and Melvin McElfresh of Salem.

Cyril Letzelter of Martins Ferry is principal nominee to the Military Academy. Louis Richard Slaby of Salem is third alternate.

City Motorist Jailed On 3 Traffic Charges

Van Allen Murphy, 124 Church Ln., cited in Chester Saturday on three of five traffic counts, was committed to the Hancock County Jail Monday night in lieu of payment of fines following a hearing before Mayor Burton Ward.

Murphy was fined $50 and costs for lack of a driver's license, and $20 and costs each for speeding and improper registration—operating a truck with an auto license. Charges of operating a vehicle with defective lights and a muffler were dismissed.

Trucker Due Hearing For Off-Route Travel

LISBON — William Frankford, 235 Sherman St., is slated for a hearing Thursday night before Mayor John Todd on a charge of violating an ordinance banning trucks from village streets, except on state routes.

Frankford, cited Friday, is one of many coal truckers living in Lisbon who drive their trucks home so they can get an early start in the mornings, police said.

The ordinance effective in 1954, carries a fine of not more than $25.

Midland Church Holds Election For Officers

Officers have been elected by the Presbyterian Church at Midland. They are: Julius Jacobs, president of the Board of Trustees; Robert Needs, vice president; John McNellie, secretary, and William F. Moll, treasurer.

Harry C. Humbert was re-elected superintendent of the Sunday School and other officers are Charles Smith, assistant; Mrs. Richard Bailey, secretary; D. O. Porter, treasurer, and Mrs. Harry Jacobs, pianist.

Anchovy paste added to a cup of medium white sauce makes an interesting sauce for plain fish fillets.

2 New Street Lights Slated At Salineville

Transfer Of Another Also Authorized At Meeting Of Council

SALINEVILLE — Two new street lights and transfer of a third were authorized for the Grandview area by Council at a meeting Monday night.

Harold Neff of the Ohio Power Co. discussed a 10-year contract for street lighting, and the costs of various street lighting proposals previously aired by Council.

Council approved the new lights and the change of one for John and Cleveland Sts. The changes boost the annual lighting bill to $4,620, compared to last year's $4,550.

A 2-mill levy provides $2,100 annually for lighting, the remainder of the expense comes from the general fund. Since the utility contract was approved in 1954, a total of 21 new lights have been authorized for the village.

Grading and draining of a roadway between Lincoln and Washington Sts. was approved by Council as soon as weather permits. A complaint about the roadway was presented by a delegation consisting of John Higgins, Paul Manning and Robert Skinner.

Council also authorized an ordinance to advertise for bids for the sale of the City Hall, minimum bids established at $3,000. Council offered the Main St. structure for sale last year, but received no bids.

Council took no action concerning a proposed cemetery levy which had been planned for the May primary but which was not filed in time with the County Election Board. A special election had been discussed at the meeting Feb. 9.

Council also took no action on a request from Mayor Karl Lindner to provide for the capture and disposal of stray dogs in the town. The mayor said he has been receiving many complaints about dogs running loose, but the town lacks a dog catcher and the county authorities cannot cope with the local problem.

Mayor Lindner suggested he be empowered to obtain two men and equipment to occasionally round up stray dogs and turn them over to the county dog warden.

Council authorized installation of pipe for a driveway of John Feldman of John St., if he obtains the pipe. Roy Beckwith, street supervisor, was instructed to repair a section of John St. where the roadway has slipped.

The next meeting will be March 9.

Swine Breeder Values Fat Probe, Lean Meter

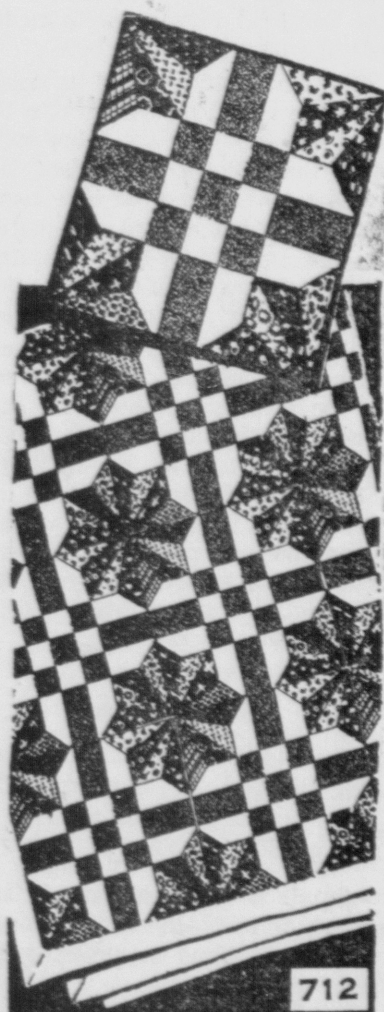

MADISON, Wis. (U-P) — Jack Spratt and his wife might welcome two new methods of measuring fat and lean.

Of particular value to the swine breeder are the "back fat probe" and the "lean meter," according to University of Wisconsin meat specialist Robert W. Bray.

The "lean meter," developed by Purdue University, has a small needle wired to a meter. Impulses from the needle, thrust into the hog back, make the meter register depth of fat.

Cheaper to use is the "back fat probe." A small, painless slit is made in the hog's back, and a small ruler is inserted to measure depth of fat over the seventh rib, an area indicative of the average fat covering the hog.

ABEL

"And it came to pass, when they were in the field, that Cain rose up against Abel his brother, and slew him."

—Genesis 4:8

Abel, the second son of Adam and Eve, was the first innocent victim of man's envy and man's passion.

He was born after his parents' fall, and their expulsion from Eden, the paradise God had created for the souls of men.

Yet, though he inherited the nature of evil, Abel leaned toward what was good in man's dual nature.

Even Jesus later spoke of him as "righteous Abel."

He was the first, after the fall, to find favor with God because of his devotion to what was good. The sacred narrative tells us that "he also brought of the firstlings of his flock and of the fat thereof" as an offering to God.

Things of the spirit came first with Abel.

"And the Lord had respect unto Abel and to his offering."

But Cain was jealous of his brother's goodness and acceptance by God. "And his countenance fell."

The Lord asked Cain, "Why art thou wrath? Why is thy countenance fallen?"

The Scripture does not record any reply to this question. No doubt Cain had none. Instead, he did as men have done so often ever since when confronted with a person or a talent superior to their own. He plotted to injure or destroy it.

So, when Cain and Abel were in the field, "Cain rose up against Abel his brother and slew him."

The story of Cain and Abel, as told in Genesis, does not describe the feelings of Adam and Eve when they learned for the first time the awful fact of death.

But ancient Jewish writers say that they mourned beside his body for several days. Would life return? Did he only sleep?

No, it was not sleep but the other. It was the terrible mystery, the dark brother to sleep, the fearful shadow that has fallen across man's path ever since.

As Adam and Eve sat pondering the tragedy, so the story goes, a raven lighted on the ground not far from them and buried a dead bird in the earth.

Thus they knew for the first time that man's physical body is of the earth and should be returned to the earth.

Traffic

Barnett, 713 E. 4th St., police said. There was heavy damage to the left side of the Davis car, while the rear bumper and right rear wheel were damaged on the Barnett car, police said.

Moments after the Davis car crashed, a pickup truck spun and stopped alongside, hitting the curb. A short time later, another auto went against the curb upgrade. Police made no official record of the last two crashes because only one car was involved in each case and damage apparently was light.

McDaniel notified headquarters by radio of the quick succession of crashes. Patrolman Orin Smith was called from cruiser duty in East End to halt traffic at the point where the E. 4th St. grade leads off Pennsylvania Ave. He remained on duty until about 9, when street department trucks arrived to cinder and salt the stretch. McDaniel was on duty over an hour investigating the crashes and unsnarling the traffic jam.

Palestine Mother, Child Injured In Crash

EAST PALESTINE — An East Palestine mother and her 15-year-old daughter were injured Monday night when their car rammed the rear of a tractor-trailer on Route 51, seven miles north of Rochester, Pennsylvania State Police reported.

The daughter, Donna Lou Hogue of R. D. 2, was admitted to Providence Hospital in Beaver Falls with lacerations of the face and contusions and abrasions.

Her mother, Mrs. Geraldine B. Hogue, 47, was treated at the hospital for a deep laceration of the face.

State police said the collision occurred when Mrs. Hogue's car rammed the rear of the semi outfit operated by Norman J. Eger, 31, of Carnegie.

They estimated about $400 damage to the 1953 sedan of Mrs. Hogue and some $50 to the truck.

Serviceman's Auto And City Truck Collide

A Glenmoor area Navy youth and a Montgomery Ward & Co. truck driver escaped injury in a collision on Route 267 at Annesley Rd. about 9:50 a. m. today.

A car driven by the serviceman was headed north on Annesley Rd. and the truck was headed toward East Liverpool. The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon dispatched an officer to investigate, but had not received a detailed report by noon.

5-Year-Old Girl Really Flipped Into Hospital

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (U-P) — Memorial Hospital attendants say 5-year-old Cynthia Helwig really flipped. She started a series of somersaults in her house and went right on through a window to the ground outside. She was treated for cuts on the face and arm.

DiSalle Cites Ohio's Need Of Labor Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio needs a law to restrain and punish individuals who engage in unethical and unfair labor practices, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle asserted today.

He asked the Legislature in a special message for enactment of a state ethical practices code patterned after that of the AFL-CIO.

The Democrat governor stressed that his proposal was aimed at individuals and not at the labor movement. His message said in part:

"... I feel that, just as legislation was needed to attempt to restrain unconscionable activities on the part of some individuals in management during part of the 20th Century, that there is now a need for legislation to restrain and to punish those individuals who engage in unethical and unfair labor practices as a result of the positions which they hold within a very necessary movement in our society."

"Some individuals have said that this is not necessary since, for example, the AFL-CIO has adopted an ethical practices code of its own."

"The adoption of the ethical practices code itself points to the need..."

Girl Scout Heads Air Constitution, Policies

A discussion on the constitution and policies was held at the meeting of the East Liverpool Area Girl Scout Council Monday night in the Red Cross rooms of the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Mrs. Donald M. Ogilvie, president, conducted devotions and presided for business.

Miss Ellen Monroe, executive secretary, gave her report.

Final plans were made for the annual "sing" to be held March 8 at the Memorial Auditorium. The theme will be "Your Town, USA."

The next meeting will be March 30 at the Mary Patterson.

steam for smoke and notified the department.

Pleasant Heights firemen went to the home of Lawrence Smith, 1107 Lisbon St., at 1:52 p. m. yesterday when a passerby stopped at the fire station and said he saw smoke coming from the home. Investigation showed it was steam coming from a vent from a dryer.

At 7:40 a. m. today, a bus driver stopped at the North Side station and said he saw smoke coming from a cellar window at the Charles W. Dyke home, 1114 St. Clair Ave.

Firemen notified police who radioed Fireman Joe Gebauer, en route up the hill, and he investigated. It also was steam from a vent pipe, firemen said.

Cumberland District Motorist Sentenced

NEW CUMBERLAND — An area man was committed to the Hancock County Jail today in lieu of a $100 fine on a drunk driving charge, while a Follansbee man was fined for being drunk at hearings Monday night before Squire John D. Herron.

James Billiter, 34, of R. D. 2 was sentenced to 30 days when he failed to pay the $100 fine. His driving license was also revoked for six months.

James LeMasters was fined $10 and costs on intoxication. They were arrested over the weekend by Hancock County sheriff's deputies when found in an auto on Route 2.

Legion Endorses Proposal For City War Memorial

American Legion Post 4 Monday night endorsed a movement to erect a permanent memorial honoring veterans of all wars, which is being spearheaded by a joint committee from all veterans' organizations.

The post acted after Carl Turk, its representative on the joint committee, reported on a meeting held last week at Post 374 in East End. The memorial would replace a wooden honor roll honoring World War II veterans now standing in front of City Hall. The estimated cost would be between $6,000 and $10,000.

The location and the type have not been decided, Turk said. The joint committee will meet again March 3.

John Parsons was presented with a diamond-studded past commander's pin last night by John Rippeth, finance officer.

Parsons, chairman of the Legion's essay contest, said 28 pins have been ordered for presentation to each room winner. Three of the town winners are from East Liverpool but their names have not been divulged, Parsons said.

Ernest Lowe, commander, presided.

School Heads To Meet

LISBON—The Columbiana County School Administrators Roundtable group will hold a business meeting Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the Lepper Library and County Supt. James L. McBride, chairman, will be in charge.

Poker Player Fined; Hearings Reset For 3

One of four men arrested early Monday morning in a raid on a Chester poker game was fined $125 and costs last night by Mayor Burton Ward, while hearings for the others were continued until Wednesday.

Francis L. McCune, 36, of East Liverpool was fined by Mayor Ward for wagering money in a game of cards. McCune was cited at the 600 Bar at 3 a. m. yesterday, along with Keith Miller of Smith Ferry, John Charles Hayes of Chester and Joseph Anderson of Newell.

John Ludovici of Railroad St., owner of the tavern who posted bond for the four men, indicated he would seek counsel and appeal the fine.

Mayor Ward granted continuances for the other three because they were at work.

School Visitation Set

EAST PALESTINE — The annual public open house program at the high school and junior high school buildings will be sponsored Wednesday night from 7 to 9 by the Parent-Teacher Organization. Teachers will confer with visitors and student work displays are arranged.

The Saps Who Pay The Piper

There are Frenchmen who have ridden the wave of inflation without damage. And there are Frenchmen who have come close to drowning. Their plight is shown by some startling examples in the February Reader's Digest.

Because French politicians failed to raise enough money in taxes to pay for their giveaway projects, the French franc lost value until it is now so nearly without value that the government is issuing 100-franc notes to create a new basis of currency exchange.

The cost of living, due to the politicians' irresponsibility, is 37 times higher now than it was in 1927. This has been the downfall of millions of aging French citizens who conscientiously saved to buy insurance, government bonds, annuities and other fixed-return investments to see them through their declining years.

These citizens, now impoverished, are classified as "economically weak," which is the equivalent of "indigent" in the United States. They have come to grief because the cost of political generosity in years past was taken out of their hides, instead of out of the hides of French taxpayers. There are no less than four million of these unfortunate Frenchmen officially registered. They are the saps who paid the piper.

For example, a widow living on annuities bought out of savings by her husband now must pay 40 times as much for a pound of butter as was being paid when the annuities were being bought out of savings. A citizen who had saved two million francs

(about $57,000) for his old age now is able to get about $220 a year, including his government allowance for the underprivileged. "There is, I believe, one great irresistible force in this country that can stop inflation at its source," in the words of Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., explaining how wage boosts can cause inflation. "That is the force of informed public opinion."

There was no force of public opinion in France while the franc was being milked of its value. There is still no force of public opinion in the United States. The majority party scarcely could wait to launch a free-handed program in Washington after the November elections. Its spokesmen are still plugging for more government giveaways, despite the alarm the Spondocrats philosophy has been causing among financial experts.

The Eisenhower administration, striving to preserve the value of the dollar for the sake of the national credit, is being sneered at by critics who claim it isn't necessary to balance the budget; that what the people want is more important than how much they can afford. Whereupon, the Spondocrats tell what the people want, though in fact it is a far cry from what politicians think they want.

If every American who could be put on the relief rolls by devaluation of dollars to the disappearing point were to write to his congressmen and his senators and tell them what he wants, the Spondocrats would be run out of Washington before the Japanese cherry trees bloom.

Chief Justice's Silence Speaks

Chief Justice Warren has let his withdrawal from membership in the American Bar Assn. speak for itself. It has been eloquent.

It cries out against sniping attacks on the U.S. Supreme Court by legalists who accuse it of trespassing on the rights of Congress. It proclaims disagreement with legalists who would like to have the Constitution say one thing for their convenience and another thing for the inconvenience of an opponent. It shrieks a protest against legalists who have been undermining the prestige of the Supreme Court by hinting that it has been over-kind to Communists, instead of enhancing its prestige by admitting that it reversed some bad decisions that could not be allowed to go unchallenged.

An American Bar Assn. committee now has proposed to Congress belatedly that it clear up a number of points in the law that have produced criticism of Supreme Court rulings. This proposal, which has been endorsed by the ABA board of governors, disclaims any intention to censure the Supreme Court.

Congress is solely responsible for settling disagreements about legislative intent, if they cannot be settled by the Supreme Court. Only Congress can enact legislation. If some of the legalists who have been jumping on the Supreme Court for disagreeing with their predilections will take their ideas to Congress for settlement, they will find that many politicians on Capitol Hill have not the slightest interest in taking the Supreme Court off the spot.

It is easier to jump on the court than to straighten out the intent of the law. Chief Justice Warren seems to have known that all the time.

Nepotism Was Never Like This

The latest discovery of nepotism in Washington is not likely to lead to anything sensational.

The only really sensational thing about nepotism in Washington, any other capital, or any other form of government would be to discover that it had gone out of style. That never will happen while human nature stays the way it is.

It is as natural as breathing to be kind to relatives. Nepotism came into existence as a practice in the Vatican, where nephews had an inside track for desirable appointments. There is a good kind of nepotism as well as the kind now being publicized. "Nepotism" in one sense means to be fond of one's nephews.

But the kind of nepotism that is rediscovered in Washington every so often is nothing that innocent. It is the kind that hogs one or more extra salaries on a government payroll by appointing wives and relatives to jobs. These people may or may not do their jobs well; most of them probably work hard, knowing they are under scrutiny. But as soon as it is known they are relatives, they are subject to criticism.

roll by appointing wives and relatives to jobs. These people may or may not do their jobs well; most of them probably work hard, knowing they are under scrutiny. But as soon as it is known they are relatives, they are subject to criticism.

It is one thing in private enterprise for the boss to take care of his relatives, but it rangles twice as deep to know that some people are on government payrolls because they were put there by ever-loving members of their own families.

Nepotism in government cannot be forbidden, but it needs to be discouraged, and always will be as long as the press in the United States is free to tell who is holding jobs and why.

Some of the new Democratic congressmen went to Washington this year imbued with the idea that the federal cow should be milked to the limit.

ALL DOGS get our affection. But "Fontclair Festoon," the poodle, voted best of all in recent national dog show would never be our choice. This is not knocking Fontclair. This Frenchy-like pooch could sue mankind for damages. Through breeding trends and stylings this poodle has been made a caricature of the traditional bow wow. Through man's hands this dog has been pampered, dolled up, barbered and stylized until it looks like an animated combination of shaving brushes, fur mittens and a fur shop of odds and ends.

We like to think of a dog as a durable, rugged animal that scampers across sunny fields with a freckled boy, scares burglars, keeps away installment collectors, chases railroad trains and, perhaps, does the Alpine pass routine with a keg of brandy. Fontclair Festoon, 14 inches high, is lovable, loyal and a champion. But give us Lassie, the Alpine Saint Bernard or Balto in the dash to Nome with serum.

BOB KIPHUTH, most successful swimming coach in history, is retiring after 40 years at Yale. Over that period his teams won 514 meets, losing only a dozen. He came to Yale as a physical instructor in 1918 without any idea of going near the water. But despite loss of Bob, the Kiphuth touch remains for his son is director of Yale Athletic Association.

"Head of American Bar Association says disbarment proceedings will begin at once against Communists' lawyers charged with constituting an elite corps for the defense of Reds." — New item. Wanna bet? (Where has the Bar Association been all these years?)

Success story of the day is that of an almost unknown singer, Theresa Minocci, who is getting rave notices for her Town Hall appearance. Up to now she has been singing in cabarets.

Fidel Castro is now Cuba's headman and will know what trouble really is. Some of the July 26th Movement boys will soon be in the "What - Have - You - Done - for - Me - Lately" movement.

Weighing In For The Heavyweight Bout

Harry Bridges Takes A Plane Trip

By Victor Riesel

On the afternoon of Jan. 22, two mystery men whisked one of America's most powerful labor leaders from his plane at Ciampini Airport to a fortress - like building in Rome's most fashionable district - a building in which Soviet agents have launched propaganda riots and riotous propaganda against the U.S. That labor chief is Harry Bridges, leader of Pacific Coast Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. Those two mystery men I can now identify as Soviet activists Agostino Novella, a leader of the bitterly anti-American Italian Communist party, and Fernando Santi, one of the top men in the pro-Soviet Italian "Socialist" party.

Both are members of the parliamentary bloc which has fought against Italy's partnership in Western defense alliances. Comrade Novella is one of the commanders of the General Council of the World Federation of Trade Unions which is described in U.S. Intelligence files as a force engaged in attempting to capture democratic Western unions.

Since Harry Bridges has told high Soviet officials that he plans a series of meetings on our West Coast to tell of the Russians' virtues - and since this nation is having difficulty balancing its huge budget because we're spending more than 40 billion dollars to defend ourselves against these virtues, let me put this in record.

THE BUILDING to which the mystery men rushed Bridges is the headquarters of the "CGIL," the most powerful Communist labor organization outside the Iron Curtain and the Bamboo Screen.

Brother Bridges' long conference with the leaders of the pro-Soviet Italian labor apparatus was followed by similar whiskings from planes landing at airports controlled by Communist security police - such as the Prague file.

There, too, I can report, he made the rounds with Communist officials. There he sneered at most of us. Let me quote what he said to his followers and the American public may have it exact: "Our visit to Czechoslovakia was unusually interesting for us... Because the American workers are systematically influenced by the press and radio, which are unfriendly to your country, we shall explain many views to the members of our union," Bridges said in Prague on Feb. 7.

THIS OUTFIT, the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, controls cargo loaders on most of the Pacific Coast, in some Alaskan ports and in Hawaii.

It is also a political power on the Islands and has run several strikes which have proven that the ILWU can throw the brakes on Hawaii's economy. Without the men who follow Bridges very little can move in or out of the island outpost.

Bridges had more to say: "The visit to the Tos factory at Celakovice, for instance, has convinced us of the nonsensical propaganda about working conditions in your factories, about the concern for the workers, about the life of young people and about the function and position of the trade union organization."

"Having visited Britain, France, Belgium, Greece and Egypt, we have gained the impression that you are on the best road for achieving still greater results than before."

Bridges and his party were in Communist territory at the invitation of the Communist Union of Workers in Transport and Telecommunications.

FROM PRAGUE he hit for Moscow as the guest of some Soviet labor outfits. There he said he had studied the Russian All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions.

Before leaving Moscow for a friendly reception by Communist unions in East Berlin, the West Coast labor chief announced that he believed that the Russian labor units were more democratic than "many American ones."

This he spiced up with a statement that if U.S. labor chiefs visited Russia, "they would learn that everything the workers in America heard about the U.S.S.R. is nothing but lies and slanderous propaganda."

That's strong language from Harry boy, considering the documented evidence of Soviet anti-Catholicism and anti-Semitism and the use of the global labor outfit, the WFTU, to stir anti-American demonstrations not only in Italy but in the tinder and oil filled Near East.

Whose friend is Harry Bridges - or does no one care?

Taking On The Champ

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON Sen. William Proxmire, Wisconsin Democrat who reportedly does 50 pushups a day to keep in condition and who once won a boxing championship at Yale, has taken on a political heavyweight: Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

In the Senate, some take the attitude that everybody loves Lyndon and Lyndon loves everybody. The tall Texan is the leader of the Senate Democrats, and tries to shepherd them around like a big, happy family.

So when Proxmire, 43, laced into Johnson, 51, Monday it was like hearing a lieutenant tell the general he was getting too big for his britches.

His complaint in effect was that Johnson handles the Senate Democrats undemocratically. Proxmire said Johnson runs the party's program in the Senate without consulting the other Democrats.

"The typical Democratic senator has literally nothing to do with determining the legislative program and policies of this party in the Senate," he said.

Proxmire, who won the Senate seat of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy in 1957 and then won reelection to a full six-year term last year, demanded that the 64 Democratic senators be called together for a conference or caucus before major party decisions.

He said he thought that if Johnson had regular meetings with his fellow-Democrats it would improve the leadership.

None of this is likely to improve the popularity of Proxmire for two reasons:

1. He has started a family fight among Democrats - much to the Republicans' delight.

2. Johnson, who sees to it that he does a lot of favors for his fellow Democrats, has a lot of loyal supporters among them.

And Johnson, a very sensitive and egotistical man, is hardly likely to enjoy getting his hair mussed. He was ill in Texas Monday but he didn't lack for friends to champion him against the Proxmire assault.

For instance: Sen. Richard Neuberger, Oregon Democrat, told Proxmire a man "should whistle the same tune all the time." He said Proxmire not only had received favors from Johnson in the past but had "probably buttered up the majority leader more than any other senator."

Proxmire, who considers himself a liberal, acknowledged having said many nice things about Johnson. Neuberger also considers himself a liberal.

Apparently the whole Democratic chain of command in the Senate has been irritating Proxmire. He was an Army lieutenant in World War II and, in length of Senate service, is still a lieutenant compared with the power that goes to oldtimers.

Senate plums - that is, committee chairmanships - are handed out not on the basis of ability but on length of service.

They go to those senators who manage to get re-elected often enough to outlast all those ahead of them on a committee. They then get the chairmanship automatically.

This is called the seniority system. On Feb. 2 Proxmire called on the Senate to abolish this system.

Proxmire isn't apt to make much of a dent in the way Johnson runs things. Other men before Proxmire have complained bitterly about the seniority system but the system has outlasted all of them.

Treasury Crisis

By David Lawrence

'Politicians Bark Up The Wrong Tree'

Lots of members of Congress are making speeches these days to the wrong audience. Many of the Democrats, and even some Republicans, are deriding a balanced budget and talking about "growth" through bigger and bigger spending by government. But this time the politicians are barking up the wrong tree - they may be convincing those of their constituents who think they are going to be the beneficiaries of the bigger spending but it is the investors who remain unconvinced and are scared. For the Treasury is up against a crisis in refunding its maturing bonds. Investors are seeking refuge in the stock market, which is recording new high marks.

Ever since the election last November, investors have been growing increasingly worried about what the Democratic party, with its overwhelming control of Congress, might do to the fiscal condition of the United States. Also, many industrial leaders have held up their expansion plans. Unemployment has not been materially reduced, largely because of the failure of the heavy-goods industries to come back. This is in part due to the uncertainty about interest rates on borrowings and to the threatening rise in labor costs.

While there is a good deal of pious talk in Washington about proposed legislation to check abuses in the labor field, not much of anything is really going to be done by a labor-controlled Congress to remove the monopoly power from the national unions.

THE OUTLOOK for the heavy-goods industries is clouded when it should be booming. Psychological factors are holding up the fulfillment of many plans for plant expansion that were completed months ago. This is the "growth" that should be encouraged instead of discouraged. Congress has failed to come to grips with the crisis. Many of its so-called "liberals" think the answer lies in bigger and bigger deficits and that it doesn't matter whether the budget is balanced. But the speeches along that line from Capitol Hill are scaring the investors away from bonds and fixed-interest securities.

While some of the speeches in Congress make headlines that can mislead millions of voters - so many of whom are partially inclined anyhow - the investors of the country cannot be influenced by anything except sound economics and solid facts. Here, for example, is an extract from the Feb. 14th news letter of "The Whaley-Eaton Service," a non-political weekly published in Washington for many years and read regularly by the very men who handle funds in the

Roads In La Stuttgart

By Truman Twill

Life would have been simpler if I never had seen that story from Stuttgart, Germany, about a new way to build roads.

I could have gone about my business without giving road-building a second thought, which is what I have done all my life, except for a moment of doubt now and then.

The moments came when something about road - building didn't make sense, such as when taxpayers were being soaked for improvements that cost a million dollars a mile and a gang of guys with air hammers and sledges knocked holes in the improvement to get at gas lines and water lines. That didn't make sense.

It didn't make sense, either, when piecemeal patching went on year after year, with patches being put on patches, all at so much an hour for day labor and no satisfaction guaranteed.

Nor did it make sense to see whole sections of road being broken up because something has gone sour with a fraction of a section. And least of all did it make sense that roads are in use 365 days a year but can be built and maintained less than half a year, which puts too much pressure on good weather and causes a chronic deficit of road improvement.

These have been my moments of doubt.

That story from Stuttgart says Germans are building roads in a factory. The factory turns out concrete roads in sections, which are taken to the scene of the road-building, laid in place on previously prepared beds of foundation material - and there's your road, ready for use.

The operation is independent of weather. It could be done in winter as well as in summer. If it became necessary to get at something beneath the road, the block could be hoisted independently and put back into place intact.

If it turned out that the road had to be relocated, it could be picked up and moved. There would be no more guesswork about the thickness of the finished result. The blocks could be measured and inspected at the factory. They could financial and business institutions of the country.

"The flight from government bonds is more ominous than most Washington officials care to admit publicly. Several recent Treasury financing operations have failed badly. As a result, the Treasury is being forced to run faster and faster merely to keep up with its maturities. The fact is that the richest nation in the world is now operating on a hand-to-mouth basis.

"THE EFFECT of all this seems utterly lost on advocates of dynamic new spending programs to speed business expansion, eliminate unemployment. The Treasury cannot spend more money than it gets through taxes and government-security issues. Yet professional and naive investors both now distrust the latter. This means recourse to financing through the banks, which increases money supply and is directly inflationary.

"As Federal Reserve Chairman Marin puts it: 'Investors cannot be induced to purchase fixed-income securities if they fear a steady erosion in the purchasing power of the dollar.' Yet this is precisely what they do fear. 'Restoration of faith in the dollar requires facing up to the Treasury's dilemma. But that is something Congress seems unprepared to do.'

ANOTHER penetrating comment comes from Aubrey Lanston, head of one of the best-known firms in New York that deal in government securities. In a recent speech before the Kansas City Society of Financial Analysts, Mr. Lanston said:

"I think it can be demonstrated that a close interaction has slowly but persistently developed between what goes on in the government security market and what goes on in Congress regarding proposed and actual federal spending and in the budget.

"Altogether it seems to me clear that the Treasury has quite a job on its hands. It is going to be difficult indeed for it to do much financing outside of the banks. Such a prospect carries with it the usual inflationary connotations. Therefore, if Congress elects to spend money over and above the 77 billion dollars, proposed by the President - for whatever purposes - the future inflationary potential will be enlarged.

"I hope that we will find that Congress is fully aware of what is needed. I hope that we will find that there are enough people in this country who care enough about what happens to it to scream the house down from here on, so that Congress will not be tempted to be lax in its number one duty. This is to repair the condition of the government's finances and to make clear that the credit of the Treasury will be maintained - by promoting a stable currency."

These quotations are typical of what financial men everywhere are saying. They have been frightened by Congress and by the speeches which seem to argue that two and two can make five any time the government says so.

be sent back there if someone erred.

The idea will give fits to road-builders, who will rush to the defense of what they are doing. They will declare that the Stuttgart Germans do not know what they are getting into - that there are 2,694 technical reasons prefabricated highways cannot be built.

The road-builders might be right. Maybe roads always have to be built the way they are being built now. But a taxpayer wonders. He wonders every time he sees road-builders mired in mud, smothered in dust, stymied by rain, or sitting on their hands while waiting for the beginning of another summer.

Nine times out of 10, the Germans come up with sound answers to the technical problems in this world. Road-building is a technical problem, except for the multi-billion-dollar money problems involved, too. If some of those billions could be saved, along with some of the bums, taxpayers will want to know more about roads a la Stuttgart.

Flabby Muscles Cause Unbecoming Bulge

Has your figure thickened up. The in-pulling muscle, the extensors obliques, cover the front and sides of the abdomen and, when toned, flatten the front line. These two simple exercises will restore tone to the middle muscles and get your posture on the straight and narrow. In two weeks you will see a decided change. The first exercise encourages the vital organs to resume their normal position.

Position: Lying on back, both knees flexed, arms down at sides. Movement: The exercise is to slowly raise hips off floor, one vertebrae at a time, raising only to straight line—do not arch back. Your weight is resting on soles of feet and shoulders, both in a straight line from knees to shoulders. Pull up and in strongly with abdominals and slowly lower hips to floor, again one vertebrae at a time. Repeat four times, gradually increase to eight times.

The second exercise tones both the in-pull and up-pull girdle muscles: Position: Same. On back, knees flexed, soles of feet on floor. Movement: Put your hands together, palm of right hand on back of left hand. Slowly lift shoulders off the floor and touch hands to left knee.

Position: Same. On back, knees flexed, soles of feet on floor. Movement: Put your hands together, palm of right hand on back of left hand. Slowly lift shoulders off the floor and touch hands to left knee.

THE DESIGN of nature's girdle is a marvel of efficiency. There are only two sets of muscles which exert a streamlining effect on the front line.

Here they are: The rectus abdominus, a long strap of muscle which runs the full length of the trunk, from pelvic girdle to top of rib cage. These muscles pull er, gradually increase to 10 times, holding for a slow count of 10.

You can keep tone in the girdle muscles by pulling up-and-in slim throughout the day, in sitting, standing, working and walking. The up-pull comes first, then the in-pull. Try it! There you are on the streamlined beam.

Will he take away an American steelworker's job?

Meet Vladimir Petrov, Russian steelworker. He earns about 56 rubles a day.

American steelworkers earn $24.00 a day...four times as much as steelworkers of Western Europe, over four times as much as Vladimir, and seven times as much as Japanese steelworkers.

So what?

So this: Many foreign countries have zoomed their output of steel—they're selling it all over the world—and in increasing amounts even in the U.S.A. For instance, more barbed wire is being imported here from abroad than American mills are producing.

Soaring costs in this country are hurting the American steelworker as he tries to compete with his counterparts all over the world...European and Japanese steel producers are even now underselling American steel right here in this country. Some American steelworkers have already lost their jobs just for this reason; foreign steelworkers have gotten their jobs.

Certainly it will not help America if the spread between U.S. and foreign wages is increased. It will only serve to export jobs.

Isn't it time to stop this inflationary rise in wage costs that is undermining the job security of American workers?

The American Iron and Steel Institute brings you this message from the steel industry because

$500,000 CD Unit Stored

Hancock Given Portable Hospital

The Civil Defense Corps of Hancock County is now ready for possible emergencies with the arrival of a $500,000 portable hospital unit.

In addition to 200 folding cots complete with blankets and pillows, the unit contains medical equipment of all types, from tongue depressors and stomach tubes, to tooth extractors and X-ray machines.

The medical equipment arrived Monday in a giant semi-trailer truck from Norfolk, Va., packed in 364 crates which will be stored in a vacant building at Tomlinson Run State Park near Pughtown.

The unit can be transported to the scene of any disaster or emergency in the Northern Panhandle, including both sides of the Ohio River.

It contains complete equipment to operate anywhere without depending on other sources, for electricity or water, as it has a portable generator and filtration system.

The Hancock CD organization will also receive a $6,800 radio sending and receiving system to be installed in the building with the hospital.

Ferrari, security officer at the Weirton Steel Co., said that since his appointment as CD director, he has secured over $1 million in emergency equipment with a cost of only some $900 to county taxpayers.

West Virginia was allotted only two of the emergency units, with the other going to Kanawha County, where the state's capital is situated.

Ferrari said J. Allen Holbrook, son of N. T. Holbrook, Tomlinson Run supervisor, will serve as custodian of the equipment and will reside in the building in which it is stored.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children's Quarreling Necessary Evil

A mother of only one child, three years old, wrote that she had so often read of the problems over jealousy among children of the same family that she decided it was better to have no more children. Of course I pointed out that the only child still may suffer much from jealousies of other children. By Garry Meyers

When, at any time, you are sure a quarrel or fight should end, separate the combatants for an appreciable period without attempting to ascertain who started it.

YOU COULD NOT do this easily in a car full of youngsters, of course. In that case, since the lives of all are endangered by possible traffic accident, more stern and decisive measures might be warranted. If, however, you are certain of the aggressor, curb or punish him at any time he imposes on a brother or sister.

Build on the strength of each child, especially in his relationship to the other children. Show appreciation of all indications of cooperation and companionship. It is wonderful if, as your children grow older, you can all have more and more good times together.

My reply: "I guess they are made that way." In the first place, it would be a rather drab and boring family with children who never quarreled. Through quarreling and fighting they may learn a good deal about justice and get considerable practice in the art of self-defense through verbal battles, carefully supervised. No doubt some great lawyers have been made that way.

But quarreling brothers and sisters are not always well matched. Parents should then protect the underdog and curb the top cur. Parents themselves also deserve some consideration. While with a sensible philosophy, they need not be unduly upset by quarreling, their own self-defense may be warranted.

IT'S NOT too much to hope that as the siblings grow up from toddlers to teen-agers, it's possible for them to grow less bellicose toward one another and more cooperative.

Pair Awaits Hearing In Market Burglary

Bryon Provins, 23, of Salem R. D. 1 and James E. Price, 21, of Brown, W. Va., are to be given hearings today before County Judge James MacDonald at Lisbon on charges of breaking and entering the Campbell Market of Route 45 near Salem Sunday.

William Lee Cline, 25, of 1603 Main St., Wellsville, who is charged with the market burglary along with an entering of a Wellsville cafe, is to be given a hearing later, Sheriff Russell VanFossan said.

The three were taken into custody at Cline's home early Sunday morning by Wellsville police who found articles from the market. Cline pleaded guilty to a burglary of the Star-Lite Cafe of Wellsville Feb. 14, and was bound over to the Columbiana County April Grand Jury by Mayor William Shoub Monday.

Can 70,000,000 People Be Brainwashed?

That's what the Communists are trying to do behind the Iron Curtain.

They are feeding the entire populations of East Europe a steady diet of lies...lies...lies. Now you can fight these lies with your own Truth Broadcast beamed behind the Iron Curtain over Radio Free Europe.

And you may be flown to Europe to broadcast it yourself...or you may be awarded one of 200 high-powered Hallicrafters short-wave radios!

On a plain sheet of paper just complete this sentence in 25 additional words or less...

"As an American I support Radio Free Europe because..."

Double your award if you send one dollar (or more) with your entry! If you send a dollar to Crusade for Freedom, and your entry is selected, a member of your family may be flown to Europe with you...or you will receive a Westinghouse transistor radio along with your short-wave receiver!

Send your entries to:

Crusade for Freedom
Box 32-E, Mount Vernon, N.Y.

Practical Joke Works On One Coal Dealer

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — A practical joker ordered three truckloads of coal sent to the home of Fred W. Fraker, who heats part of his house with electricity and the rest with oil. This was the result.

One dealer sent a driver in an empty truck to ask where to deliver the coal.

Another telephoned to confirm the order.

The other delivered the coal.

Headed Tough Police Force

Ventura Was Batista's Terror Boy

(This is the second of three stories on the activities of police and other agents who operated under the Batista regime in Cuba, both before and during the Castro revolution. Some of this information was reported by the Associated Press last April; some other aspects became known in the wake of Batista's flight into exile.)

By HERBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP) — About a year ago a Havana lawyer obtained a writ for the release of a man held by the national police on a charge of terrorism. He waited at the appointed place and time for the prisoner.

An auto bearing official license plates drove up. The lifeless body of his client was pushed out onto the pavement. An impeccably dressed man in his 40s, mustached and pleasant of visage, stepped out. He was the national police chief, Maj. Esteban Ventura. He told the lawyer:

"Here is your habeas corpus." Apocryphal as that may sound, Cubans familiar with the well-dressed policeman consider the story an understatement on his cruelty.

MAJ. VENTURA once worked as a butcher. Leaders of Castro regime call him Fulgencio Batista's chief executioner.

They view him as the drum major in a procession of violence that, by Fidel Castro's estimate, killed 20,000 Cubans.

The revolutionary government is seeking his extradition as a refugee from justice. He fled to the Dominican Republic when the Batista regime collapsed Jan. 1.

Ventura ran a tough police force that sat as judge and jury at the 5th and 9th police precincts in Havana.

Supplementing his activities were those of the dreaded SIM agents. SIM, the Military Investigation Service, operated a house of horror at the Bureau of Investigation.

Prisoners brought to these places readily confessed to revolutionary activities. Many did not live to repudiate these confessions.

VENTURA'S chief chamber of operations was the 5th precinct station on Havana's East Side.

Political prisoners and others suspected of rebel sympathies were brought to this filthy, dark basement. It has five 10x12 bare cells, with small double-barred windows, and one smaller windowless cell. All lack beds, faucets or drains and the walls are marked with stains which Castro investigators ascribe to the force of bullwhips or other leather weapons.

Prisoners were dumped into this basement through three rectangular openings, which also serve as drains, in a street level patio. Agents entered the basement through a secret circular stairway.

THIS IS the story told by Israel Hernandez, 26, a guard at the 5th precinct station:

Several nights a week Ventura's agents, dressed as peasants, would arrive by auto. They would bring torture weapons to the cellar through the secret entry.

"We never saw them on the main floor of the building. Soon we would hear muffled screams and cracks of the bullwhips. Nobody upstairs said anything. We all pretended not to hear. Neighbors who could hear never complained. It would have been foolish.

"Later on duty downstairs we could see for ourselves what had been going on."

Agents also worked over suspects in streets and homes. One case was summarized at the recent trial of several policemen: The policemen broke down the door at 171 Continental St. last April. They yanked two students from bed, stood them facing a wall and shot them.

Their money and an automobile were taken. Next day the police took away the furniture and sold it to a second hand dealer.

Even the sacrosanct sphere of the Havana Bar Assn. did not escape the wrath of Ventura's police force.

The minutes of a meeting Feb. 18, 1958, show that the association unanimously agreed to petition the government to call new elections because it considered the existing regime "a factor of disorder."

For this effort, the association's headquarters were raided and documents seized.

Indian Relics Shown For Explorers Group

Harry R. Cline displayed several skull fragments, teeth, arrow points and other Indian relics found on a recent dig in the tri-state area when the Aboriginal Explorers Club met Monday night at the Little Buckeye Pottery on Bowling Ln. Jim Woodrow of Wellsville was host.

The pottery is owned by H. A. Dawson, club president, who has donated a room for meetings and space for a club library. Bill Patterson made a leather sling and demonstrated its use as a weapon.

Dawson gave a brief talk on the domestication of wild corn by prehistoric Indians. Ray Simoni of Smiths Ferry and Richard S. Thompson, secretary, reported on a trip to the Carnegie Museum. They viewed an exhibit entitled "Man," dealing with early Indians in the Upper Ohio Valley before 1700.

The exhibit is part of the Pittsburgh Bicentennial celebration. Many Indian artifacts from the West Virginia Panhandle are on display, they reported.

The next meeting will be March 9 with Jim Montes of Wellsville.

Flood Emergency Ends

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—The flood emergency was ended officially here Monday by Lee Corn, chairman of the Trumbull County Red Cross chapter. He said the last of the evacuees sheltered by the Red Cross had returned to their homes or were living with friends. More than 2,000 persons were cared for at Red Cross shelters during the floods in January and early February.

Dump Truck Ditches

LISBON — A dump truck driven by William Moore, 34, of Canton veered into a ditch on Route 644 a mile east of Kensington Monday afternoon at 3:15 after a tire blew out, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported. Damage was minor, officers said.

Calcutta Firemen Plan Fund Drive

Calcutta volunteer firemen will launch their annual fund campaign early in March, following completion of a financial statement by a committee, it was reported at Monday night's meeting in the fire station.

Norman Neal, president, reported that statements of the fire company will be mailed soon to residents, asking them to donate.

The statement was completed by a committee headed by Clarence Dick. Firemen co-operated with Liverpool Township, east, firemen for a simulated fire drill Sunday in the Dairy Ln. section.

It was announced that a meeting of the Tri-State Firemen's Association would be held in Midland Thursday night at 8. Sixteen attended Monday night's meeting, with Pete Petrovich, vice president, presiding.

Beaver X-Ray Clinic To Be Held Thursday

The Beaver County Tuberculosis Association will hold its monthly X-ray clinic in the Rochester Hospital basement from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Thursday.

Last year the association conducted 33 chest examination clinics and X-rayed 16,429 persons. The association has taken 169,239 chest X-rays since the program was inaugurated in 1947.

In addition to the monthly clinic in Rochester Hospital, the association plans to hold 14 clinics in various county communities.

First of these is scheduled for Hopewell Township High School gymnasium next Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. This is open to the public and there is no charge for adults.

The next clinic will be held in Beaver Falls High School from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. March 6.

Studies Flood Control

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — The Fremont Chamber of Commerce is studying a flood-control program for the Sandusky River, which inundated the business district and some residential areas here twice this year. Under consideration are a conservancy district which would include Sandusky, Seneca, Crawford and Wyandot counties; dredging the river from Fremont to Sandusky Bay and construction of flood walls through Fremont.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Three years ago I married a fellow I thought I was very much in love with. I was put in debt due to 3 miscarriages and a lot of skin trouble since I got married. My husband refuses to give me money for doctor bills.

My father is not well off financially and I had to get money from him three times. He's been wonderful but I made up my mind not to ask him for another penny.

I'm strong enough to go to work now as I've been out of the hospital three weeks but my husband won't give me money for carfare or decent clothes so I can look for a job.

Please tell me what to do. I'm really up against it. — AVIS.

Dear Avis: This is a marriage? I suggest you borrow carfare from your father and see Legal Aid. Perhaps when your husband hears from a lawyer what his obligations are, he may believe it. Did you say you married at 17? Surely you could have waited a few years for this doll of a husband.

Take Punishment

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a high school junior and have never been in any trouble. We are having a war at our house and I hope you can help me out. Please try.

The big dance of the year was two weeks ago. I took my best girl and we doubled with Butch and Sally. Butch got his dad's car. After the dance we decided to drive to a chicken shack 12 miles out. It was raining and the roof was leaking on the girl's nice dresses so I offered to get my dad's car.

The car was in our driveway as usual and the folks were asleep. The keys were on the kitchen table so I helped myself. Dad has always been good about letting me have the car for special events.

When I got home at 2 a. m. every light in the house was on. My father met me on the porch. His first words were, "You idiot, why didn't you tell us you were taking the car? We heard it being driven off and reported it to the police."

I tried to explain I didn't see any point in waking them up to ask a question when I already knew the answer.

Now I can't have the car until St. Patrick's Day. Don't you think this punishment is too stiff for an innocent kid? — DON.

Dear Don: Take your punishment, boy. Aristotle made the same mistake. He could have avoided a lot of trouble if he had asked Mrs. Aristotle to open her mouth so he could count her teeth. He was sure women had fewer teeth than men but he didn't bother to check.

Next time, don't assume anything. Just open your mouth and ask.

Five Against Mom

Dear Ann: This letter is being written by five sisters. We are 16, 15, 12, 11 and 9. Our mother is wonderful in many ways, but she nags us constantly about small things, such as "turn out the lights, hang up your sweater, you forgot to wash the bathtub, turn off the radio in your room..."

Once we considered making a tape recording of her nagging. Maybe if she heard herself pick on us night and day she would stop. Can you give us some advice on how to make life livable? Thank you very much. — THE QUINTS.

Dear Quints: Yes, I can give you some advice. Turn out the lights, hang up your sweaters, wash the bathtub and turn off the radio in your room.

You kids forget that there are FIVE of you and only ONE of her. If each of you leaves three things undone a day, that's 15 extra things for Mom to do. Why don't you put THIS on your tape recorder?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

County Clubs Will Take Part In National 4-H Observance

LISBON — Columbiana County's 1,720 4-H Club members will take part in the observance of National 4-H Club Week, beginning Sunday, according to Don Myers, county 4-H agent.

About 24 million boys and girls in rural, urban and suburban areas throughout the United States will participate.

These young people, between 10 and 21, are members of 90,700 clubs.

They will share with other 4-H'ers in recognizing "4-H Alumni," the 20 million men and women throughout the country who participated in the 4-H program in the past 50 years since the movement started.

Among the special events planned locally is the County 4-H rally Monday at 8 p. m. in Lisbon High School gymnasium.

John Hill of St. Clairsville, International Farm Youth Exchange delegate to Chile in 1957, will present an illustrated discussion of his activities and there will be a presentation of county honor club awards and a special 4-H talent show.

All 4-H members, past and present, advisors and parents are invited, Myers said.

Owners Report Thefts From 2 Parked Trucks

Parts and equipment were stolen from two parked trucks overnight, their owners reported to police today.

William Vincent of Northside Ave. told police a side rack was stolen from his half-ton truck between 6:30 and 9:30 p. m. Monday while it was parked on W. 9th St. near Florence St.

Richard Kennedy, 807 Oakland Ave., said a tire and wheel, an electric lantern and a flaring tool and cutter were stolen from his truck while it was parked at a Dresden Ave. service station.

Beaver Candidates

Circulate Petitions

Beaver County candidates began circulating petitions today for the May 19 primaries.

Republicans and Democrats will nominate candidates for all county offices, except judges and jury commissioners, along with borough, township and school district officials.

The filing deadline is March 16 with the withdrawal date March 23.

Gen. Clark Elected

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark (retired), president of The Citadel, South Carolina military college, and World War II commander of allied forces in Italy, was elected Monday as a director of Dayton Rubber Co.

Paraguay

The Stroessner government has accused the priest of Communist leanings but he insists: "I'm not a Communist. I'm a Christian as are most of the Paraguayan people. In our Christian hearts, there is no place for an atheist doctrine like communism."

Stroessner, a son of a German settler and a Paraguayan mother, rose to power five years ago at the head of a military coup.

The old cobbled streets of his capital, Asuncion—clatter in the daytime.

But when night falls, the streets are deserted — shrouded in fear and suspicion.

At no time does anyone publicly say anything against the government. Even foreign diplomats glance over their shoulders while discussing the regime.

Opposition factions look to the outside for help in overthrowing the regime—spurred by the anti-dictator campaigns in Cuba and Venezuela.

Electric current travels in a wire at the same speed as light, about 186,000 feet per second.

Group Guidance Sessions Set For City High School Students

Another in a series of meetings on group guidance for East Liverpool High School students will be held Wednesday morning during the activity period, Principal George Hargraves announced today.

Sophomores and juniors will meet in Memorial Auditorium to hear a program dealing with scheduling for 1959-60. Hargraves and Bert A. Dawson and Mrs. Ruth Connor, dean of boys and dean of girls, respectively, will be in charge.

Seniors will hold discussion in their homerooms on a booklet distributed by the Glidden Co. entitled, "Getting the Right Job." Student Council representatives will lead the discussions.

On April 1, juniors will discuss a booklet published by the state government on "Teenagers Guide To Employment" and seniors will hear Glenn Roberts, director of personnel at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., speak on "Work Responsibilities."

Gordon Starkey, president of the Potters Bank & Trust Co., will speak to seniors April 15 on "Money, Its Care and Use."

Juniors and seniors will attend a discussion on prom etiquette April 29.

The guidance program, which has been under way all year, included three discussions on the teen-age code, talks on traffic safety, personal health, military obligations, and discussions on the booklets, "Stay in School" and "After High School What?"

Play Presented By Students For DAR Observance

The observance of American History Month by the Bethia Southwick Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was marked by the presentation of a play by pupils of Garfield and MacDonald Schools Friday night in the social rooms of the First Presbyterian Church at Wellsville.

"Famous People of February" were portrayed as follows:

Uncle Sam, Billy Pease; Horace Greeley, Richie Call; James Otis, Denver West; Roger Williams, Timmy Carr, Millard Filmore, Ralph Rawlings; William Sherman, David Burns; William Harrison, Terry Grills; Peter Cooper, Drew Leyda; Susan B. Anthony, Suzanne Morgan; Cyrus McCormick, Wayne Kelley; William Cody, Roger McLain and Henry Longfellow, Keith Thorn.

Mrs. Isabel Hart, program chairman, directed the play and accompanied Kathy Powell in the singing of "The Minuet" and "Stand by America." Kathy Powell and Suzanne Morgan sang "Children's Marching Song."

"Home on the Range" and "How Great Thou Art" were sung by the Rev. Phillip Fletcher, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Nancy Fletcher. Mrs. Carolyn Vogel, regent, conducted the opening ritual and brief business and Mrs. Dwight MacLean, chaplain read a portion of Ps. 33 and an article on the characteristics of Lincoln and Washington. She closed with a prayer of Washington's.

A centerpiece of pink snapdragons and Colonial figurines, with pink candles in crystal holders, was used on the table. Refreshments were served buffet style to members and guests. Miniature bouquets of candy were favors. Mrs. Vogel poured and Mrs. Donald Wolfe was in charge of the table.

Nominations For Oscars Announced In Film Capital

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The spotlight was on the ladies today in Hollywood's annual carnival of Oscars.

For the first time in years, there was no clear-cut favorite among the nominees for top actress. Not a tinted hair separates these five:

Elizabeth Taylor (Cat on a Hot Tin Roof); Susan Hayward (I Want to Live); Deborah Kerr (Separate Tables); Shirley MacLaine (Some Came Running); and Rosalind Russell (Auntie Mame).

With the men, the story is different. David Niven and Spencer Tracy were established as odds-on favorites with Niven given a slight edge in the early betting.

Niven was nominated for his role as the pathetic woman molester in "Separate Tables" and Tracy, up for his third Oscar, was nominated for his one man show in "The Old Man and the Sea."

Tony Curtis and Sidney Poitier, who went through "The Defiant Ones" handcuffed to each other, are expected to cancel each other out of the running by their well matched performances.

The fifth male nominee is Paul Newman for "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof."

"Gigi," already winner of awards from the Screen Producers Guild and the Screen Directors Guild, is expected to repeat in the Academy Awards as best picture come April 6.

But competition from the other nominees will be stiff. They are "Auntie Mame"; "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof"; "The Defiant Ones"; and "Separate Tables."

In the supporting categories, the nominees for the men are: Theodore Bikel (The Defiant Ones); Lee J. Cobb (The Brothers Karamazov); Burl Ives (The Big Country); Arthur Kennedy (Some Came Running); and Gig Young (Teacher's Pet).

The supporting actress nominees are Peggy Cass (Auntie Mame); Wendy Hiller (Separate Tables); Martha Hyer (Some Came Running); Maureen Stapleton (Lonely Hearts); and Cara Williams (The Defiant Ones).

Cub Pack Banquet Set March 19 At Chester

Potters Eliminate JU, 85-65; Face Big Red In Semi-Finals

Burbick Hits 21, Cunningham 20

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor
Two old tournament rivals — East Liverpool and Steubenville Big Red — will battle in the semi-finals of Sectional Class "AA" play Wednesday.

Goodballt Injures Knee In JU Contest

Cookie Goodballt, a Potter substitute, who was carried from the game in the last minute of play Monday night at Toronto, suffered a twisted knee when he crashed into the stands going after the ball. Goodballt was X-rayed at the East Liverpool City Hospital and then released.

Red won in the same bracket by routing Winterville, 95-41, in the opening game.

Tonight Toronto and Mingo Junction battle in the opener at 7 and Wellsville clashes with Steubenville Central at 8:30.

Jefferson Union proved a stubborn opponent for the first eight minutes last night, but once the Potters got rolling the contest turned into a one-sided affair.

CRAIG BURBICK, junior forward, fired 21 points through the nets, while sophomore Kenny Cunningham was the other half of the one-two scoring punch with 20 points.

Burbick had one of his best nights of the season as he pumped in one-hand push shots from the side throughout the evening.

Cunningham, the Potters' leading scorer during the regular season, hit on a variety of shots but was deadlocked with a jump offering around the foul circle.

Karaffa was forced to substitute when he lost three of his players on fouls. Bob Beatty went out with 2:43 remaining in the third quarter, Jan Allen left with 6:25 remaining in the game and Ray Bigelow followed Allen about one minute later.

However, by that time the issue was pretty well settled.

WITH BURBICK and Cunningham hitting the majority of the baskets, East Liverpool shot a red-hot 50 per cent. The Potters connected on 34 of 68 chances. JU turned in a 37 per cent shooting mark with 24 of 65.

East Liverpool didn't gain the lead until about four minutes had gone by in the first period. Beatty drove in to score the basket which put the Potters ahead 8-6 and gave them a lead they never relinquished.

The score at the end of the first period showed East Liverpool on top, 17-11. By halftime the Potters had increased their lead to 41-26. The count at the end of the third period read, 65-43.

Behind Burbick and Cunningham in the scoring parade were Bob Mackall with 14 points, Ray Bigelow chipped in with eight and Phil Chan a substitute collected six.

Roger Allan and sophomore, Glen Dickenson were the lone scoring threats for Coach Len Mosser's JU five.

Allan pitched in 20 points and scored nine of his total in the fourth period. Dickenson, a nifty little floorman, followed closely with 19. They were the only JU cagers to reach the double figures.

THE VICTORY was East Liverpool's third of the season against 16 setbacks. Jefferson Union entered last night's contest with a 5-13 record.

The Yellowjackets had the Potters disturbed during the early minutes.

Mackall scored a foul for the first point of the game, but Dickenson hit a bucket on a drive shot and Phil Judy added a foul. Allan tossed in a basket and Judy followed with another charity toss for a 6-1 advantage.

At this point, the Potters came to life and went on to score the next eight points. Mackall dropped in two fouls. Cunningham layed up a basket on a drive and Burbick converted a foul, to knot the score at 6-6.

Beatty's goal with four minutes remaining in the first period broke the deadlock and the senior pivot man followed with a foul to make it a 9-6 advantage for the Potters.

Burbick led the way in the first quarter with seven points which staked the Potters to the 17-11 lead. Cunningham and Mackall carried the load in the second period. Cunningham garnered eight points and Mackall six to put the Potters in front, 41-26, at halftime.

Burbick followed with an eight-point third quarter while Cunningham chipped in with six to keep the Potters well ahead the remainder of the game.

EAST LIVERPOOL—85

with Steubenville Central providing the opposition.

The teams split in two battles during the regular season. Wellsville dropped the first game at Steubenville, 68-61, but won 78-55 at Beacom Memorial gym later in the season.

Wellsville will put a 12-6 record on the line, while Central was 9-9 for the regular season.

Coach Jack McDevitt will start Dan Baldwin and Bob Kiggins, the Tigers' one-two scoring punch, at the forwards, with Franklin Jackson at center and Ray Franklin and Phil Baldwin at the guards.

The Wellsville-Central game will get under way at 8:30 following the Toronto-Mingo tussle at 7.

If the Tigers survive, they will meet the winner of the Toronto-Mingo game on Thursday at 8 p. m.

East Palestine opens tournament warfare against Hubbard tonight at 7:30 at the Struthers High School gym. Beaver Local takes the floor in the nightcap at 8:30 against Brookfield.

Chester will shoot for its 13th victory against 6 defeats tonight at South Side. Coach George Thompson's Rams have won 13 while losing 10.

The Panthers will conclude their season Friday at Follansbee.

Big Red Belts Winterville Cagers, 95-41

Top-seeded Steubenville Big Red gave only a passing glance to Winterville in gaining a lopsided 95-41 victory in the opening game of the Sectional Class "AA" tournament Monday night at Toronto.

Coach Ang Vaccarro's team raced to a 22-13 lead at the first quarter, 49-27 at halftime and built up a 77-39 margin at the end of three periods.

Phil Musgrave hit a new high in the scoring department for the season when he pumped in 30 points. Sandy Williams, the Big Red's All-Ohio candidate, scored 20 points.

Sommer topped Winterville with 11.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

PAGE 10

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Kenny Cunningham (20) is shown going up for two points in the second half of Monday night's game with Jefferson Union. Phil Judy (35) of Jefferson Union gets up but not quite high enough as he attempted to block the shot. Craig Burbick (34) and Bob Mackall (10) wait for the rebound. East Liverpool defeated Jefferson Union, 85-65, in its tournament opener.

Indiana Five Upset By OSU

By The Associated Press

Ohio State, in the midst of a rather dismal season, stole the Ohio college basketball spotlight Monday night by upsetting Indiana 92-83 on the Hoosiers' court.

Little League Meeting Reset For Thursday

A meeting of the East Liverpool Little League set for Wednesday has been postponed until Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Travelers Hotel because of the Steubenville-East Liverpool Sectional tournament game Wednesday night at Toronto. Officers, managers and anyone interested in Little League are asked to attend. Dick Forzano, president, will preside.

The victory eased the sting of a 122-92 shellacking Indiana handed the Bucks earlier this month in Columbus. That contest shattered four Big Ten scoring marks.

Ohio State is now 5-6 in the conference and 9-10 overall.

Elsewhere, Cincinnati rolled to its 13th straight victory and 10th in the Missouri Valley Conference, with a 92-69 sweep at Tulsa; Western Kentucky handed Xavier an 82-73 setback; Bowling Green downed Loyola of Chicago 86-70; Anderson of Indiana nipped Youngstown 71-69; Bluffton swamped Goshen (Ind.) 83-67, and Rio Grande edged Kentucky Christian 65-63.

Oscar Robertson continued his scoring rampage by collecting 36 points in the Bearcats' conquest.

In the Western Kentucky-Xavier clash, Ralph Crosthwaite scored 24 points to run his four-year point total at Western Kentucky to 2,064, more than any other Kentucky college player.

Xavier's Joe Viviano established a new Musketeer life-time mark by boosting his four-year point production to 1,291. The previous school high of 1,287 was held by Dave Piontek.

Bowling Green had little trouble in posting its 16th victory in 23 games. Jim Darrow led the Falcon scoring with 25 points.

Anderson's victory snapped a 16-game home court winning streak for Youngstown. The Penguins are 15-8 for the season.

Bluffton assured itself of at least a .500 season by defeating Goshen. Bluffton is 10-9 over-all and 6-5 in the Mid-Ohio League.

Tennessee Tech Star Third In Point Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Hagan of Tennessee Tech, with 36 points against Chattanooga Monday night has moved into third place in the race for the college basketball scoring championship.

Hagan boosted his season's average to 22.5. Bailey Howell of Mississippi State scored 32 points against Tulane but tumbled into fourth place at 28.4.

Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, moving toward his second straight title, had 35 points against Tulsa and lifted his percentage to 33.2.

Pike's 35 Spark Lisbon To 65-51 Win In Opener

Bob Pike continued his red hot scoring streak Monday night when he tallied 35 points and carried Lisbon to a 65-51 victory over Struthers High in the Class "AA" Sectional held at Struthers.

Pike, who Friday scored the same number of points against Leetonia in the final regular season game, was unstoppable again last night.

The district's second leading scorer, Pike poured in 11 field goals and 13 foul shots.

The victory sent Coach Jack Mills' team against Ursuline Wednesday night at Struthers. Ursuline won its opening round game by eliminating Poland.

Lisbon led all the way and harassed Struthers so bad that the score at halftime read 30-8. Struthers failed to score its first field goal until 45 seconds remained in the first period.

The score at the end of three quarters read 52-26.

Carl Thorne of Lisbon only scored four points but his presence was felt by Struthers' ace scorer Pudge Kosko.

Thorne, who stood a few inches shorter than Kosko, did an outstanding job of defending the Struthers star. Kosko ended the evening with only 14 points.

Struthers also showed a definite height advantage but failed to make good use of it.

Olmedo Wins Indoor Title

NEW YORK (AP)—"That Savitt," murmured National Indoor Tennis Champion Alex Olmedo today, "he is a very tough fellow."

"Those balls he hits are so hard to follow when you play him indoors."

But Olmedo, the Peruvian-born ace of the American Davis Cup team, saw "those balls" enough to defeat Savitt 7-9, 6-3, 4-6, 5-7, 12-10 Monday in the final of the National Indoor Tournament.

"Now," continued Olmedo, "I am going back to school at Southern California."

"I have no big plans. Naturally, I'll play all the tennis I can during the summer. But I'll decide when and where I play, no one else (referring to Davis Cup Capt. Perry Jones).

"I also am not thinking of turning pro. If I have a big season and help win the Davis Cup again, naturally, I'll listen to offers."

So that's the way things stand right now for the collegian who almost single handedly won back the Davis Cup from Australia.

Midland Returns To WPIAL Action

Kentucky Five Back In First Place Again

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kentucky, a team that gets up when the chips are down, is back in the No. 1 spot in the national college basketball rankings.

The 1958 National Collegiate champions turned in a couple of important victories last week to regain first place in The Associated Press weekly poll of sports writers and broadcasters which they had lost when they dropped a game to Mississippi State two weeks ago.

First they belted Vanderbilt 83-71 to wipe out their first defeat of the season, then they handed Auburn its first defeat, 65-56.

Although Kentucky is only third in the Southeastern Conference, those victories kept alive the Wildcats' hopes of again getting into the NCAA tournament, which they won last year.

Kentucky got some aid from an unexpected source in returning to the top. North Carolina, leader in last week's poll, got past its toughest rival, North Carolina State, then stumbled and lost to Maryland 69-51. That dropped the Tar Heels to third in the rankings behind Kentucky and Kansas State. Auburn, second a week ago, slipped to sixth after losing to Kentucky.

The top ten teams with first place votes in parentheses (points on 10-9-8 etc. basis):

1. Kentucky (35) ..... 822
2. Kansas State (24) ..... 737
3. North Carolina (12) ..... 663
4. Cincinnati (7) ..... 598
5. Mississippi State (14) ..... 556
6. Auburn (1) ..... 461
7. North Carolina State (1) ..... 427
8. Michigan State ..... 349
9. Bradley (2) ..... 256
10. West Virginia (3) ..... 146

The second ten: St. Louis 115; California 88; Marquette (1) 81; Texas Christian 70; Oklahoma City 58; Seattle 47; St. John's (N.Y.) 41; St. Bonaventure 38; Portland 35; St. Mary's (Calif.) 17.

Competition Seen Keen For Boxing Shows

CHICAGO (AP)—A competitive war to promote the top boxing shows for respective television programs is in the making between newly formed organizations in Chicago and New York.

Arthur M. Wirtz and Jim Norris the big boys behind the court-closed International Boxing Club, will continue to promote matches under the name of National Boxing Enterprises, Inc.

Wirtz announced Monday at a news conference that the NBE will be directed by Truman Gibson, former president of the IBC, and will be a subsidiary of the Chicago Stadium Corp., one of many properties owned by Norris and Wirtz.

The NBE will continue presentation of the Wednesday night televised fights from various cities in co-operation with local promoters.

"Our new organization has the know-how and the resources, and we are going to continue in boxing on a major basis," said Wirtz. In New York, Harry Markson, general manager of the newly formed Madison Square Garden operation, said:

"We will be in competition not only with the Chicago outfit, but with all other promoters, including Bill Rosenzohn (promoter of the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight).

Under a court anti-trust ruling which dissolved the IBC of New York and Illinois, Wirtz and Norris had to sell their stock in the Garden.

Round Table Out Of Santa Anita Race Saturday

And some observers at Santa Anita believe the 5-year-old "horse of the year" for 1958 will be retired from racing.

His owner, Travis M. Kerr, announced earlier this week that Round Table's last season.

Round Table suffered his injury in the $60,400 Washington Birth-day Handicap Monday.

He kicked himself and finished dead last in a field of 16 horses, 32 lengths behind the winner, Japan's pride, Haukchikara. The cut is just below the back of the ankle.

Red Cross Flood Aid Put At $1.2 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Red Cross says it has spent $1,201,546 for emergency food, shelter and clothing and repair of flood damaged homes in a five-state district.

E. V. Bighinatti, director of the mid-eastern disaster operation, said Monday the organization has already assisted 10,731 families in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, New York and West Virginia.

He gave this breakdown of progress (indicating number of families applying for aid, number aided and amount expended):
Ohio—8,485; 4,378; $964,517.
Pennsylvania—1,435; 885; $147,434.
Indiana—533; 335; $54,654.
New York—156; 132; $31,738.
West Virginia—102; 101; $3,200.

Brennan Wasn't Notre Dame 'Fall Guy'

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Terry Brennan late Monday night denied a published story that he was "the fall guy" in the Notre Dame football situation and that he is through with football coaching "because too much depends on luck."

The story with a Tampa date-line, appeared under Dick Young's byline in Tuesday morning editions of the New York Daily News.

Contacted here, the former Notre Dame football coach who was fired last Dec. 21, said: "Maybe someone else made those statements. I didn't."

"My only comment is what it's always been the decision was made by the university and it was their decision."

Seattle U. Cage Coach Plays Saxophone Too

By JACK HEWINS
SEATTLE (AP)—If the axe ever falls on the coaching career of Vince Cazzetta, the young head man of Seattle University basketball can snatch his saxophone out of storage and hardly miss a payday.

He has been a card carrying member of the American Federation of Musicians for 18 years.

Now 33, Vince confesses his lip hadn't touched horn for 10 years when his talent was discovered at a recent ball. Someone pushed Cazzetta to the band stand, handed him a sax and backed away.

After a few preliminary toots the head basketball coach took Sweet Georgia Brown for a jazz ride. The orchestra leader tried to hire him.

For a moment, Buddy Mason was almost back in business. Before World War II, Vince had his own 15-piece band, "Buddy Mason and His Orchestra." He was Mason.

The band played in Connecticut, Massachusetts and New York.

Campanella's Son One Of 15 Cited In Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—A son of former Dodger catcher Roy Campanella and 17 other youths were arrested Monday after a gang fight.

Police said he was a leader of a gang called "the Chaplains," who challenged another gang to a fight over "rights" to hang around a bowling alley in Flushing, Queens.

Police said the gangs arranged to meet Monday, to settle the issue.

Police spotted about 30 boys in a vacant lot and investigated. Six who were fighting, including Campanella, were taken in with 12 others.

Campanella and three others under 16 were charged with juvenile delinquency. The older boys were charged with disorderly conduct. No one was injured.

Police said "the Chaplains" gang was made up largely of Negro and Spanish-speaking youths. Campanella is a Negro. The other boys involved in the fight were white.

He and two of the boys picked up with him are members of a rock 'n' roll singing group—the Del-Cords—who have appeared on TV and cut a couple of records, which have yet to be released.

At the Bronx Youth House, where David was kept overnight, a man accompanying David's mother was involved in a fracas with a photographer.

Jack Baumohl, 47, on assignment with the New York Mirror, said an unidentified Negro accompanying Mrs. Campanella smashed his camera and pummeled him after he took her picture.

David's father has been active in a campaign against juvenile delinquency. He could not be reached for comment.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of William A. Sevey, who departed this life nine years ago today, Feb. 24, 1950. Do not grieve too much for those who cannot make you hear the melodies of Paradise that fill the air so near. Lifting just a note beyond the range of mortal ear. And do not grieve too much for those who long to help you see that all the transient charm of earth, all fleeting ecstasy, but fit the soul for joy that lives throughout eternity. Oh, do not grieve too much, too long: Earth is the prelude. Heaven the song! Sweet memory of wife, son, family, and all who knew him.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Canadian Cut-Ups Do Own Writing

The Forum of the Twelve Caesars is the only logical place to have lunch with Wayne and Shuster, the Canadian cut-ups who love to dress up in togas and do sketches about ancient Rome. There I met with them last week, singing Latin songs and thinking up pranks to play on the waiters. They especially love to sneak a light to their own cigarettes, beating the waiters with the cigarette lighters to the punch. It's not easy at the Forum where the passion for flames runs almost as high as it does at the Pump Room in Chicago.

John Crosby

"EVERYONE today has a gimmick," said Shuster amiably. "Being an intellectual is a gimmick like any other."

"We were never considered egg-heads in Canada exactly. Just comedians," said Wayne.

Lincoln's birthday had come and gone and he pointed out that Canada had no comparable fixture.

"We still don't have a national figure up there. When the Davy Crockett craze was at its height, we searched into our past and came up with a guy named Radisson who was going to be our Davy Crockett."

He sighed: "Radisson turned out to be the biggest turncoat this side of the border. We had to abandon him. Canada needs a hero."

SHUSTER took up the burden: "This bit about calling us 'literate slaps'—well, this is all new to us and very flattering but also maybe a little bit surprising. We were well on our way to getting an M.A. in English at the University of Toronto when the war came and interrupted our education. But we were never anything like the brightest kids in school. Our old teachers at the university are paralyzed with astonishment at the idea that we are considered literate."

Wayne broke in with: "I once called an agent 'literate' and he said: 'Lay off. The boys upstairs will hear you and assign me to Ludwig Bemelmans.'"

I asked how Ed Sullivan had happened to be bowled over by them that he signed them to 16 appearances—something he never had done before.

"Well, the Canadian people were our advance men," said Shuster. "Wherever he was, the Virgin Islands, Europe, New York, some Canadian would sneak up to him and say: 'You ought to catch Wayne and Shuster.'"

"Finally, this irritated him to the point of asking to see a king. He saw it and signed us up for 16 shows. He had more confidence in us than I have."

"WE'RE LAZY comedians. We appear on Canadian TV five times a year and we think that's all we can manage. We need at least three weeks preparation for each show. "The Canadian people help us pick what we do here. They call up and say: 'Do that one about Julius Caesar.' We were thinking of doing a Russian Western called 'Frontier Communists'—but we haven't written it yet."

Wayne and Shuster grew up together, went through school and college together and even were in the Army together.

They started collaborating on bits for the Boy Scouts and have been at it ever since. They've been partners so long they wouldn't know how to work alone.

"We're one pair of comedians who never fight with their writers," said Shuster. "We are the writers. We bounce ideas off each other and fight like mad but whoever has the best point wins. After we write something, we say: 'Good show, forward!'"

"THE TROUBLE with having writers is that if the writers don't have any personality, neither do the comedians. Actually, we had no choice. In Canada there aren't any comedy writers. The only humorist was Stephen Leacock, a really great man and the only influence we have had on our humor."

"We've always done things to appeal to all kinds of people. After our takeoff on Julius Caesar we were a bit worried that it might not appeal to just everyone."

"But on our way out of a restaurant, a dishwasher stopped us and said: 'Hey, liked your stuff last night. But do you think people got it? It's not over their heads?' Then we knew we were doing all right."

Lebanese Officer Dies

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Maj. Gen. Tewfic Salem, 55, former chief of staff of the Lebanese army, died Monday after a brief illness.

Castro Acts To Wipe Out School Graft

Cabinet Also Moves To Clean Up Cuba's Hospital Program

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government acted today to clean up graft in the nation's school system and hospital construction program.

The Cabinet approved a decree annulling hundreds of teachers' appointments to primary schools. They included 400 named by ex-President Fulgencio Batista and many others chosen by his education minister.

The Cabinet charged that many of the Batista appointments were for political purposes only and that some teachers drew pay for doing nothing.

The new law also set up a promotion scale for teachers. The Cabinet authorized expenditure of $2,155,000 to complete 10 hospitals on which more than 16 million dollars already has been spent.

The government charged the expenditures to date were 60 percent in excess of the real value. It said the contracts had been granted for personal gain and that some projects were unfinished after 14 years. It ordered the old contracts canceled and new ones issued.

The government also ordered suspension of pension payments to former congressmen who have been getting $500 a month.

A firing squad meanwhile silenced the last of three former officers branded as top war criminals by Castro's regime.

Former Lt. Col. Ricardo Luis Grao, 45, was executed just before midnight, shortly after he had been condemned to death in a seven-hour trial and an insanity plea had been denied. He was convicted of assassination, homicide and robbery while fighting the guerrillas in Oriente province.

DiSalle Makes His Proposals On 40 Measures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After a 90-minute session Monday with legislative leaders, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said he offered recommendations on 30 or 40 pending bills.

Emphasizing that he made only recommendations, DiSalle said: "There is no way I know to force any Legislature to pass any legislation except by the use of a club or the old-fashioned pressure system."

"We will give our reasons why we are for or against any bill. Then it is up to the Legislature to determine whether the reasons are sufficient. There is a fine line there—whether the governor should provide leadership, whether he should be a dictator, whether the Legislature should merely be a rubber stamp, or whether there should be a partnership."

DiSalle told newsmen he would sign a bill limiting capital punishment even though it permitted electrocution for those who kill policemen or prison guards.

"After all," he said, "if you do away with 95 per cent of electrocutions, you have made a step in the right direction."

DiSalle closed the door on the possibility of becoming a candidate for the Democratic 1960 presidential nomination. He said his running "is not even in the realm of possibility."

"It would be silly for a governor who has been in office only five weeks and who has no record of accomplishment to be running for national office."

DiSalle said he would sign a bill limiting capital punishment even though it permitted electrocution for those who kill policemen or prison guards.
